Dear Ed:

A day or so ago we discussed some cultural resource sites located within the amended Pearl Queen Mine permit boundary. These sites are located near the Schoo pit. Extensive archaeological work has been done on the adjoining State land and you thought this information might be helpful. As follow up we are sending you the following data.

1. Cultural Resource Study (Map, 1"=400').
2. Cultural Resource Inventory of the Proposed North Pearl Queen Mine Site - Beaver County, Utah - 7/21/00.
3. Archaeological Data Recovery at a Prehistoric Lithic Procurement Locality (42BE2126) in the Mineral Mountains Beaver County, Utah. June, 2001 by Montgomery Archaeological Consultants.
4. Additional Survey for the Proposed North Pearl Queen Mine in Beaver County. Addendum to Cultural Resources Inventory of the Proposed North Pearl Queen Mine Beaver County, Utah May 30, 2001 by Montgomery Archaeological Consultants.
5. Letter of 6/25/02 from Elizabeth J. Skinner & Peter Aimsforth to Dr. Keith Jones - Utah Division of State History. These people have their own agenda and a grudge against Henry Schoo. We do not agree with their conclusions but I am sure the letter would come up at some time.
